Penalty Exceptions

Since the purpose of an IRA is to accumulate funds for retirement, your receipt or use of any portion of your IRA before you attain age 59 1/2 generally will be considered as an early withdrawal and subject to a 10% penalty tax.

The 10% penalty tax for early withdrawal will not apply if:

- The distribution was a result of your death or disability.
- The purpose of the withdrawal is to pay certain higher education expenses for yourself or your spouse, child, or grandchild. Qualifying expenses include tuition, fees, books, supplies and equipment required for attendance at a post-secondary educational institution. Room and board expenses may qualify if the student is attending at least half-time.
- The withdrawal is used to pay eligible first-time homebuyer expenses. These are the costs of purchasing, building or rebuilding a principal residence (including customary settlement, financing or closing costs). The purchaser may be you, your spouse, or a child, grandchild, parent or grandparent of you or your spouse. An individual is considered a 'first-time homebuyer' if the individual did not have, (or, if married, neither spouse had) an ownership interest in a principal residence during the two year period immediately preceding the acquisition in question. The withdrawal must be used for eligible expenses within 120 days after the withdrawal. (If there is an unexpected delay, or cancellation of the home acquisition, a withdrawal may be redeposited.)
- The withdrawal is used to pay for unreimbursed medical expenses in excess of 7.5% of your adjusted gross income.
- The distribution is used to pay for health insurance coverage for you, your spouse or your dependents. This exception applies only if you were unemployed and received federal or state unemployment compensation for at least 12 weeks. If you have been re-employed for 60 or more days, this exception may not apply.
- The distribution is taken in a series of substantially equal periodic payments for your life, or life expectancy. The 10% penalty tax will not apply if you make no change in the series of payments until the end of five years or until you reach age 59 1/2, whichever is later.

Distributions Requiring Additional Information

For several distribution reasons, the Custodian of your Clipper Fund IRA requires that additional paperwork or instruction accompany your Distribution Form as follows:

- A medallion guaranteed letter of instruction, including mailing address of beneficiary.
- Form W-9 to certify the beneficiary's social security number.
- A tax waiver if the decedent was registered in a tax waiver state.

Special Note: Substantially Equal Periodic Payments Please carefully review the rules (72t) governing these payments with your tax advisor before establishing these distributions from your IRA.
